Lt. (jg) Leon Smith Awarded Medal By Forrestal

Lt. (jg) Oscar Leon Smith, Jr., USNR, son of Oscar Smith of Canyon, has been awarded the Air Medal by Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal for the President.

Lt. (jg) Smith received the award as Aerological Officer in seven weather patrols to track and penetrate hurricanes and typhoons of extreme intensity from Aug. 8 to Sept. 30, 1945.

Text of the citation is as follows: "For meritorious achievement in aerial flight as Aerological Officer, attached to Acorn 34, Aug. 8 to Sept. 30, 1945. Participating in seven weather patrols to track and penetrate hurricanes and typhoons of extreme intensity, Lt. (jg) Smith made aerological observations and attempted to locate the center and outer extremities and to determine the severity of tropical storms in the Philippine Islands Area. By consolidating the knowledge thus gained, he was enabled to publish storm warnings which contributed to the safe flow of supplies to forward battle areas. His courage, professional ability and outstanding devotion to duty reflect the highest credit upon Lt. (jg) Smith and the United States Naval Service."

McDaniel and Black Bag Three on Colo. Hunting Trip

R. T. McDaniel and J. M. Black returned Tuesday morning from a hunting trip at West Elk Creek, Gunnison, Colorado, where they bagged two deer and one elk. The results of their trip were very much in evidence, what with the elk head on top of their car, and the two deer tied on the sides. The elk was a seven pointer, while one deer had eight points and the other a spike deer.

The hunters report that the deer hunting couldn't be better than at West Elk Creek, and they could have brought back more venison than they did, had they not deserted the deer for the elk chase.

Bufs Seek a Comeback After Fourth Defeat

The Buffaloes will meet the New Mexico Aggies Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Buffalo Stadium in the Homecoming Day game for West Texas State.

The Buffs suffered defeat at the hands of Jack Curtice's Miners at El Paso Saturday night. The Miners led 20 to 0 at the half. The Buffs came back strong in the second half, scoring 20 points. The game ended 26 to 20, favoring the Miners.

The Aggies played a strong game against the New Mexico Lobos, being defeated 7-6. This is the only comparative score of the two teams, and may indicate a very close game here Saturday.

In spite of all the uncertainty which has prevailed on the campus during the past two weeks because of the athletic situation, it is reported that the Buffs are in high spirit, and under the direction of Coach Gus Miller are looking for another victory Saturday.

Two Killed in Plane Wreck Here Sunday

Two Dalhart men were killed instantly Sunday afternoon when the BT-13 in which they were riding crashed into a field about 150 yards east and south of Canyon Aviation Service.

Killed were Wilford C. Russell, who was the owner and pilot of the plane, and William N. Nite, co-owner of the Wanser Pharmacy in Dalhart. The two men had come from Dalhart to visit Ray N. Brickley, a student at West Texas State College. They had landed at Canyon Airport around 1:30 Sunday afternoon, and came into town to visit Brickey, returning to the airport about 3:30. The crash occurred approximately 10 minutes later, immediately after take-off. E. H. Lindsey, chief instructor, witnessed the crash. "It is the rule of the field, that a pilot must reach the altitude of 400 feet before making his first turn out of traffic," Lindsey stated, "but he had barely broken ground when he started a steep climbing turn to the left. He was in too steep a bank for the speed he had and the altitude. A pilot just shouldn't get his plane in that attitude that close to the ground. He just stalled out and spun in. The engine was running perfectly."

Lindsey summoned the ambulance before rushing to the scene of the crash-up. N. S. Griggs ambulance from Amarillo and the Griggs-Warren Funeral Home answered the call.

Russell was an ex-Army lieutenant, and was planning to organize a business with his brother in Dalhart. Nite had been a chief pharmacist's mate in the Navy. He was married and had a baby daughter three years old.

This crash marked the first fatality to ever occur involving any ship flying off the Canyon Aviation Field. With thousands of hours of flight time to the field's credit, this safety record is to be applauded.

Mrs. Hood Receives Interesting Letter From Italian Girl

Last spring when the Clothing Drive for European countries was in full swing, Mrs. S. R. Hood donated several things to the Drive. In a glove she placed a little note, written to anyone who received the things. About three weeks ago, she received a letter from Naples, Italy from an Italian girl, Meloni Lanet. The letter read: "My dear Lady, I am a Italian girl, that I have had from a lady in Naples your address, and I write to you, because I know your heart is very good. In the next year, I must go to marriage, and if you want to help me, please send me everything that for you is not necessary. The life in Italy is very difficult and I have not plenty money. I read your little letter that you send together a little gloves and I think of you very nice."

"Excuse me my bad English, but I hope that you understand the same. I thank you very much and if you will answer my letter I shall be very happy and in my next letter I will send to you my photo. I hope to know of you very soon. God bless you my dear, and received All my Love, Your Lanet."

Meloni Lanet lives at Naples—V. Duomo 117—Italy.

Mrs. W. H. Goodwin of Elk City, Okla., is spending the winter here with her daughter, Mrs. O. B. Vaughan.

Resigned!

W. W. NICKLAUS

The following is the letter of resignation of Coach W. W. Nicklaus:

"Dear Dr. Hill:

"I understand that you and the committee have decided that it will be to the best interest of the college for me to discontinue my work as coach of the football team and be placed on inactive status, and my salary be paid for the remainder of the contract year monthly as it accrues.

"While I do not feel that I am to blame for the situation that now exists in the athletic department, I do recognize the fact that it would be difficult for me at this time to secure the full support and cooperation that is absolutely necessary for the success of any athletic program, and particularly is this true of football. In keeping with my pledge to you that I would do what you and the committee decided was for the best interest of this great institution, and knowing that your decision has been fairly made after long and painstaking investigation and deliberation, I accept your decision and agree to abide by the terms thereof."

Baggett and Van Meter Are Fired After Flare Up In Athletics of W. T.; Nicklaus Resigns Position

The shake-up in the Physical Education Department of West Texas State was made complete Tuesday when Al Baggett and Leslie Van Meter were fired and W. W. Nicklaus offered his resignation as football coach. Gus Miller alone remains in the department. He took over the football team two weeks ago and will continue both as football and basketball coach until assistants may be selected.

President J. A. Hill issued the following statement Tuesday: To the Interested Public:

After long and careful consideration of the difficulties involved in our athletics department and after dozens of individual conferences with interested parties, including all coaches, athletics committee, several members of the team, and a few other people, I have been forced to the painful conclusion that the only solution to the problem is to ask for the resignations of Al Baggett, head of the department and director of athletics, Leslie Van Meter, assistant coach and instructor in physical education and Windy Nicklaus, head football coach.

I have reached this decision after offering those involved several alternatives. These alternatives have been received by the three men with varying degrees of disapproval. Therefore, the permanent welfare of the department seemed to require that each of these men sever himself from the institution. In taking this action we have sought to do so without prejudice to the professional standing of anyone involved. Each of the men has my best wishes, and I shall harbor no grudge. I am recommending to the Board of Regents that their salaries all be paid to the end of this regular session, June 5, 1947.

In all of my deliberations I have been supported all the way through by the judgment of the entire athletics committee except Mr. Baggett and Coach Gus Miller whom I have not thought were in position to render service to the committee. The committee itself is composed of Dr. D. A. Shirley, chairman since 1913; Dr. Lee Johnson, graduate of the institution and secretary of the Ex-Student Association; Professor Mitchell Jones, Dean of Men, also an ex-student; Professor F. E. Savage, head of the department of education; Mr. T. B. McCarter, head of the department of physics; Mr. Herschel Coffee, head of the department of economics and ex-student of the college; and Dr. L. F. Sheffy, head of the history department and chairman of the School of Liberal Arts.

Gus Miller is made head of the department and coach of both football and basketball. The matter of his assistants will be worked out as rapidly as possible.

County Fair Last Saturday Was Big Success

On Saturday, October 19, the Randall County Home Demonstration Council sponsored a one day fair and egg exhibit at the Randall County court house. At 10:00 women from nine H. D. Clubs began bringing in articles for exhibit and material for the "Country Store." Places were drawn for exhibit space and by 11:30 most exhibits were in place and the court house hall was as active as a bee hive. Outstanding features were the upholstered chair and reading center from the Ralph Club.

Zita and Edgetown both exhibited new dress forms. The exhibit from Pleasantview reminded one of the State fair. So many fresh fruits, vegetables and flowers. Sewing for children was well represented in this exhibit also.

The main exhibit from West Side club was handmade bed spreads and clothing. Most of the clothing shown was made by the club's clothing demonstrator, Mrs. B. A. Burrus. Highland Club had a very educational exhibit, a complete sewing center. Park club displayed baked foods and clothing.

Centerview exhibited the most colorful bedspread.

Edgetown club had a beautiful display of hand work and articles made from feed sacks. Plenty of home grown flowers were shown also.

The 4-H club girls had the Council Room entirely for their exhibit and from the number of things on display proves they are progressing nicely. The egg display was in Miss Lou Ella Patterson's office and drew much attention from the city egg buyers. "Better eggs and better home care" is under study in Home Demonstration work.

The Country Store, managed by the finance committee, was a success.

Mrs. Clyde Warwick returned Friday from Florence, Alabama, where she spent two weeks with her father, J. E. Winkelman, who is ill. She accompanied her brother, Ben Winkelman and wife, of Amarillo.

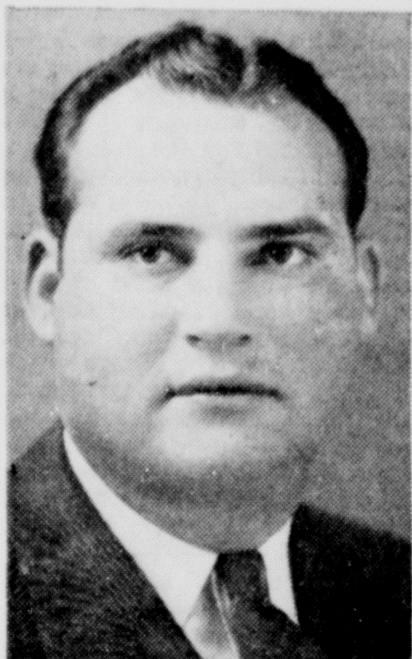

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brown and children of Sacramento, Calif. have been visiting Mrs. Brown's sister, Mrs. O. B. Vaughan and family.

Prowlers Hit Several Canyon Places Sunday

Law enforcement officers were kept busy Sunday night and early Monday morning, as two business places in town were broken into and one car stolen.

Someone tried to break into Carl's Cafe, but only succeeded in breaking the kitchen window, and did not obtain entry.

McBroom's grocery store was broken into for the second time, Sunday night, the first time occurring about two weeks ago. At that time the invaders got approximately $25.00 out of the cash register, but Sunday night they didn't bother anything, as the cash register was empty.

Reuel N. Sigmon, owner of the barge shop formerly owned by George Taylor, left his car in front of his house Sunday night with the keys in it, and someone drove it off. However, it was found abandoned in Amarillo, Monday. No arrests have been made in any of the cases, Sheriff M. E. Cantrell stated Monday.

Hammond Left on Trip Thursday

Mr. and Mrs. John Hammond left Thursday for Brownwood where Mr. Hammond attended a meeting of the Board of Trustees of Howard Payne College. Mr. Hammond is a member of the board. Mrs. Branch T. Archer visited a few days last week in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Baker. Mr. and Mrs. Archer are now living in Amarillo where Mr. Archer is practicing law.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Rollins of Dallas were here Friday visiting friends. They lived here several years ago and come back about every year to look after business.

Editorials

American common sense is on trial. It will prevail, but only after a spree. When President Truman announced the end of OPA control over meat, he naturally turned loose the wolves, who were of the opinion that America would buy at any price. The way to stop exorbitant prices is to refuse to buy. Before OPA was junked there was no meat; now there is plenty if you wish to pay the price. The retailers are not to blame. They are at the mercy of the big packers. Everyone knew that we would go through just such a period of readjustment. It is time that every American uses his head. Buy what they need, when the price is right, refuse to buy when the price is too high. This not only applies to meat, but to every other commodity which is offered on the market. Let's be sensible and make this inflation period as short as possible.

If the Board of Regents of the University of Texas do not fire Frank Dobie from the faculty, something is wrong. President Painter last week declared an end to university faculty warring. Dobie, who worships at the feet of Homer P. Rainey, defied the decree, and questioned the right of the President to tell the faculty members to use common sense. Dobie is another college man who refuses to recognize superior authority. Supposing all Americans took the same attitude. Supposing none of us would take orders from those who have the right to give orders. Where would our army and navy, and railroads, and schools, and banks, and churches, and every other institution in the land go? If Dobie does not want to use common sense, let him resign, or be fired.

Elliott Roosevelt, who professes to be the voice of his father, comes out with another of his silly statements. After President Truman junked OPA control of meat, Elliott (the former general) declared that the end was in sight, that bread would be selling for $15 per loaf. That is to say that the American people do not have sense enough to run their own affairs; that we must look to a dictator, such as Elliott would like to be, who would tell us what and when to do, and how to do it. If Elliott thinks that the American people are a bunch of morons, he has not learned much from his opportunities—the greatest that any man has ever had.

We see that instead of firing an army who had to do with meat control, OPA simply transferred this useless herd of government employees to another branch. Thus it will be until Congress finally gets around to killing the whole OPA setup. You understand that it is a pretty tough job to fire government employees on an election year.

LABOR'S BLOCKADE

A few weeks ago, in an editorial summing up the results of the shut-down of the Port of New York by strikes, the New York Times said: "Labor trouble had thrown a blockade around the nation more complete, in what were to be the piping times of peace, than our enemies were ever able to achieve with submarines in time of war." The result, at home, was a severe setback for the recovery program, and abroad a fresh questioning of the strength and unity of the American people.

The Times does not deny that there is justice in some union demands. It points out that in various cases wage adjustments are obviously needed. But, it observes, "These considerations do not justify either the presentation of exorbitant demands or a take-it-or-leave-it attitude in the matter of negotiations."

Labor is apparently of the belief that any demands, no matter how ridiculous, will be met if it acts tough enough. In this belief, unfortunately for the welfare of the country, backed up by its own announced policies and principles.

The truth of the matter is that collective bargaining has ceased to exist. No longer do the parties of a labor dispute meet, appoint a neutral umpire, present the facts on either side, and arrive at a decision based on truth and justice.

The employer is impotent. Sooner or later, by hook or crook, the unions get what they want—and all that is left for the employer is to pay the bills, if he can.

These labor excesses can lead to but one thing—public revulsion against union policies and an irresistible public demand for corrective action. Is labor so blind as to not see that the welfare of this country comes ahead of the selfish interests of any group—and that labor "victories" which are based upon force and discord will prove hollow indeed when the time of reckoning comes?

WRONG THINKING

The kind of thinking which lies behind the Wagner-Murray-Dingell public health bill has been all too prevalent of late years. It is based on the proposition that the proper way to meet a national problem is to appropriate a few billion dollars, create an enormous bureaucracy, and give the government unlimited powers of policy and administration. That may seem the easy way. But the whole history of our time is a demonstration of its fallaciousness. The terrible wars, depressions and other social and economic upheavals which have dominated the world have been the direct or indirect result of the conflict between free government and dictatorial government. And the greatest problem facing the peoples of the world now is whether they have freedom or oppression.

It may seem extreme to contrast world conditions with proposed legislation which applies to this country alone. But the parallel exists. If we are to go to the point where government must do everything for us, where we must have cradle-to-the-grave security in all its ramifications, where we confess ourselves impotent to deal with our own personal problems, our position as presumed leaders of a free world will be untenable.

So far as medical care is concerned, a problem does exist—despite the unchallenged fact that our standards in this field are the highest on earth. But that problem is being steadily and soundly solved through public cooperation, in such public questions as control of tuberculosis and venereal disease, and by rapidly expanding voluntary insurance plans for individual protection in the event of illness or accident.

The American people can certainly take care of their health standards without spending four to six billions a year to regiment the doctors and socialize the practice of medicine.

OIL PRODUCTS FOR THE FARM

New developments in petroleum products are helping the farmer save money by making his equipment last longer and operate more efficiently. That is the gist of talks made by the laboratory staff of one of the major oil companies to a group of farm editors and writers who recently met in Chicago.

During the war the oil industry, working its research laboratories at top efficiency, made rapid progress in developing such valuable products as rust preventatives, insecticides and better lubricants for a variety of purposes. These war-born products are now being made available for farmers and other civilian users to employ in the arts of peace.

It is estimated that a modern farm of a few hundred acres requires an investment of about $35,000 in mechanical equipment. Proper maintenance of that machinery is thus one of the most important farm tasks. Every year added to the life of a tractor, a combine, a mower or any other piece of high-priced equipment means more money in the farmer's pocket. And the farmer makes use of a long list of other oil products besides lubricants and fuel. These include paints, weed killers, waxes, polishes, leather preservatives, disinfectants, and applications which guard fabrics against mildew.

The oil industry, through its constant scientific progress, is making an increasing contribution to the life of the American people.

SAFER

It was two o'clock in the morning. The writer looked haggard and worn. He had been working on his novel for hours.

"Darling," called his wife, "are you coming to bed?"

"No," muttered the author, "I've got the heroine in the clutches of the villain and I want to get her out."

"How old is the girl?" asked the wife.

"Twenty-two."

"Then put out the light and come to bed. She's old enough to take care of herself."

NO APPEAL

When Smith walked into his friend's office he found him sitting at his desk, looking very depressed.

"Hello, old man," said Smith. "What's up?"

"Oh, just my wife," replied the other sadly. "She's engaged a new secretary for me."

"Well, there's nothing wrong about that. Is she a blond or a brunette?"

"He's bald."

HERS AND HIS

Though our towels are not marked "Mr." and "Mrs.," still it's easy to tell which one his is. You'll find his rack. To the left of the door; just look beneath it. On the floor.

A tough Tennessean run over by a steam roller, sustained only four cracked ribs. Lovers of machinery will be gratified to know, too, that the roller is once more up and around.

MUSIC-ARTS CLUB WITH MISS CLARK TUESDAY

The study of Russian Folk Music was interestingly presented Tuesday evening when Miss Ada V. Clark was hostess to members of the Music-Arts Club at her home on Sixth Avenue. Many beautiful bouquets of chrysanthemums were used throughout the entertaining room.

A trio composed of Mrs. L. F. Sheffy, Mrs. Glenn Dowlen and Mrs. T. H. Knighton sang two Folk Melodies "Cossack Lullaby" and "The Birch Tree," and Mrs. Sheffy sang as a solo the Russian National Song "The Scarlet Sarafan." Mrs. Herschel Coffee played the piano accompaniment. In giving the history of the Russian Folk Song Mrs. Dan Sanders stressed the fact that Russian songs grew out of the Religious Chants and with the Russian's ability for improvising we have the present-day Folk Song that is sprinkled with the Oriental touch as well as the somber strain of the long-oppressed Russian race.

The November meeting of the club will be of special interest to all who are interested in music. Mrs. Charlotte Ingham Word of Clarendon will give a concert of her own compositions for the piano at the College Auditorium on Sunday afternoon, November 17, at 3:30 o'clock. Mrs. Don Bowie will sing the vocal selections. Music Club members of both Clarendon and Amarillo are being invited for the occasion.

At the conclusion of the business meeting Miss Clark served a tasty refreshment plate of individual pecan pies topped with whipped cream, date bars, candies and apricot punch. Favors and other appointments were in keeping with the Hallowe'en motif.

Those present were Mrs. Wallace Clark, Mrs. H. A. Brown, Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. Sheffy, Mrs. Dowlen, Mrs. Coffee, Misses Isabel Robinson, Margaret Barrett, Olive Schramm and the hostess.

WALTER IRVIN'S INCORP.

Repair Work on Passenger Cars at 205 Taylor. Phone 4315 and Their Special Truck Department at 119 Polk in Amarillo. Mr. Walter Irvin, Owner.

They feature a complete automobile and Truck service, making their establishment "The Repair Shop of Good Service" in this section of the state.

One of the centers of activity that is visited by autoists from this section of the country is this very popular garage, which by reason of its very accommodating policy has won wide popularity.

This garage is conveniently located and commodious enough to look after the local patrons and the traveling public in the way of service. When they started in business they determined to furnish service to every auto and truck owner, and there is no question but that they have succeeded.

In the repair department they have in charge able and efficient workmen and are backed by vast facilities, which enable them to rebuild, replace or repair any automobile or truck, no matter what the trouble may be, in a most satisfactory manner.

It can readily be seen that the Walter Irvin, Incorp. is important to the automobile world of this section and adds materially to the advantages of every owner of an automobile. The fact that visitors and local patrons can get real service at this up-to-date institution instills the mind of the automobilist's confidence in the fact that all his troubles can be taken care of in a "most workmanlike manner."

We know of no better concern more fully equipped or better prepared from the point of workmanship to be able to turn out work of class, for its reasonableness of charges and for getting it done when promised by Walter Irvin, Incorp. ADV.

WILLING TO RISK IT

The smiling, confident young man entered a New York bank. He stepped up to the manager's desk.
"Good day, sir," he announced. "Has your bank any need of a highly intelligent, college-trained man?"
The manager poised a pencil over a form. "Your name?"
"Gradwell Lesserman."
"Experience?"
"Just out of college."
"I see," said the manager. "And what kind of position are you seeking?"
"Well," mused the young man, "I want something in the executive line. A vice-presidency, for example."
The manager put down his pencil. "I'm really very sorry," he said sarcastically, "but we already have twelve vice-presidents."
The young man waved a hand. "Oh, that's all right," he stated, happily, "I'm not superstitious!"

Restoration Fund To Rebuild Mission Schools

Above are the Presbyterian Church in Laguna, Philippine Islands, and a Presbyterian Hospital (at top) in the Philippine Islands, both of which were destroyed during the war.
The Presbyterian Church is raising The Restoration Fund to rebuild missions, churches and hospitals in Asia and the Pacific Islands. A total of about $11,500,000 will be spent for this purpose. The Fund also is helping provide food, clothing and shelter for native Christian pastors and church leaders in those lands.

Good Weather For Flying As Activity Begins at Airport

Activity started booming at the airport this week with college veterans going into full swing on the flying program, and the GI Flying School getting underway. Clear weather and moderate winds allowed an entire week of flying with the exception of Wednesday afternoon when one student and an instructor got weathered out in a rain shower and landed in a pasture to await the passage of the quick-front. No damage was done and the student profited by the experience.
Cross country trips were made by two students last week. E. H. Lindsey and his student O. J. Bales flew to Memphis Saturday and landed at Clarendon on the way. Guests at the Panhandle Breakfast Club in Plainview Sunday morning were Lindsey and Russell Jones.
There were pilots from nearly every town in West Texas who flew to Plainview for the breakfast. This custom of early morning Sunday breakfasts is catching on in many states, and there are quite a number of organizations similar to the Panhandle's Flying Breakfast Club, in numerous states.
There will be a special meeting held this week on Friday, October 25 from 7 to 7:45 at the Legion Hall, for all veterans who are interested in learning to fly under the GI Bill.

Highlighting the Southwest Aviation Conference held last week end in Amarillo, Shelby Kritser, president of Tradewind Airport Corporation, told the history behind the establishment and building of Tradewind Airport. This new airport is located south of Amarillo, 3 miles from downtown. It is strictly an airport for small private planes, and even with three multiple T hangars, and a large hangar for transient aircraft storage, Kritser stated that they still needed more hangar storage. The recent influx into private aviation of many new pilots and new private planes, is going to see the private aviation world take a sharp curve upward. And, of course, those airports that are prepared for this traffic, are going to come out on the top side. Kritser predicted there would be 10 planes to 2 single hangars within 1 year. Billions of dollars are being put into the production of useful and reasonably priced private planes for Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public,—two, three and four place jobs,—which means more private planes flying around the country, and more demand for facilities. The sooner each community recognizes this need, and tries to prepare for it, the farther ahead they will be, because private aviation is definitely becoming of age. WHY ARE WHEATLAND PLOWS

THE MOST POPULAR?

Even the women folks prefer MM Wheatland Disc Plows because there's no criticism of the job done. They simply do the job just right.

There is an MM Wheatland to enable you to cut the cost of preparing your seed bed as much as 50% over ordinary methods. 26 inch discs and 10 inch spacing between discs give it wide cut and light draft.

- Plows and Discs IN ONE OPERATION—yet very light in draft—seeder or drill attachment available. • Mixes stubble and vines thoroughly with the soil—plows from 3 to 9 inches deep.
- Helps prevent air pockets and soil blowing.
- Can be used to build terraces the economical way.

Although the degree of concavity is about the same as in ordinary 20 inch discs, the depth of concavity is 4 inches as compared to only 2 1/4 inches. As a result MM Wheatland Plows turn the soil much better. Extra large discs mean less wear on the disc bearings as discs make fewer revolutions per mile. Discs are especially heat-treated steel, highly polished to scour better. RIGID FRAME: This frame is now famous as the one that won't "twist," "wear," or "give"—thanks to its BRIDGE TRUSSED construction and the extra heavy-duty casting and steel plates that connect the heavy axle to the rigid frame. Hand and power lift models—See your MM dealer for sizes and when available—they're worth waiting for.

Messrs. Carlan and Davidson Owners. Invite Everybody to come in and get acquainted.
A good place to eat and a place where both local and traveling people can well satisfy their demands in the matter of obtaining good foods. The menu consists of not only the prime necessities of life, but many inviting and tempting delicacies of chicken and steak dinners are offered to satisfy the tastes of the most fastidious.
In traveling over the country you will find nothing in greater profusion than poor eating places. This is why it is indeed refreshing to find such an up-to-date establishment as this. It is unsurpassed by anything at any place in surroundings or accommodations of service. When Messrs. Carlan and Davidson went into business it was with the idea that a modern inn would be appreciated by the local and traveling public. That this principle was well accepted is proved by the success they have attained.

Here you will find home cooked food, wholesome and deliciously appetizing. The service is equally satisfactory whether your order is large or small and you will be made to feel that your trade is desired and appreciated by the management.

MILKING TIME
"Another farmer is bringing suit against our road on account of his cows," said the railway clerk.
"No! This time he complains," said the manager, "that our trains go so slow that the passengers reach out of the car windows and milk his cows as they go by."

"I tell you I won't have this room!" protested the old lady to the bellboy who was conducting her.
"I'm not going to pay good money for a closet with a folding bed. If you think that just because I'm from the country—" "Get in, lady, get in," the boy cut in wearily. "This isn't your room. This is the elevator."

This assessment proposed is one as against the property owner personally and against the abutting property as well, and as a first lien against such abutting property.
The estimated total cost of the street improvement for paving, curb and gutter aforementioned is the sum of $86,097.10, of which the total estimated cost to be borne by abutting property owners is at least two-thirds of such amount, and not to exceed three-fourths of such amount, and it is the present intention to make the levy on a basis of one-third of the total cost of street improvement to abutting property owner on one side of each street or avenue and one-third of which total cost to be levied against the abutting property owner on the other side of each street and avenue, and one-third thereof to be borne by the City of Canyon, Texas.
It is specifically requested that all property owners of such abutting properties to the streets and avenues above designated, come to the City Hall of Canyon, Texas, prior to such meeting, and being prior to October 25th, 1946 to sign Mechanic's and Materialmen's Lien Paving Contracts. Notice of such time and place of hearing was duly called for by resolution of the City Commission at regular session on October 7th, 1946.

Veteran's Wives Honored at Open House Thursday

Baskets of dahlias and chrysanthemums lent an air of Fall festivity to the reception room of the American Legion Hall Thursday afternoon. The occasion was the open house honoring wives of veterans of World War II with members of the American Legion Auxiliary and V. F. W. Auxiliary as hostesses.

Receiving the guests were Mrs. T. H. Knighton, Mrs. H. E. Campbell, Mrs. Robert Bellah and Mrs. Art Roberts. Guests were then shown to the registration table where Mrs. Wes Kleinschmidt and Mrs. Gladys Caldwell presided.

During the social hour, punch, cookies and nuts were served by Mrs. Frank Barnhill, after which a musical program was presented by several girls from the West Texas State music department. Martha Kelly sang "Prayer Perfect," "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes," and "Somewhere in the Night," accompanied by Joan Ward. Miss Ward then favored the group with three piano selections. Accompanied by Carolyn Wimberly, Thelma Mercer sang "Indian Love Call, followed by a piano solo, "Night and Day" by Alice Billy Cortis.

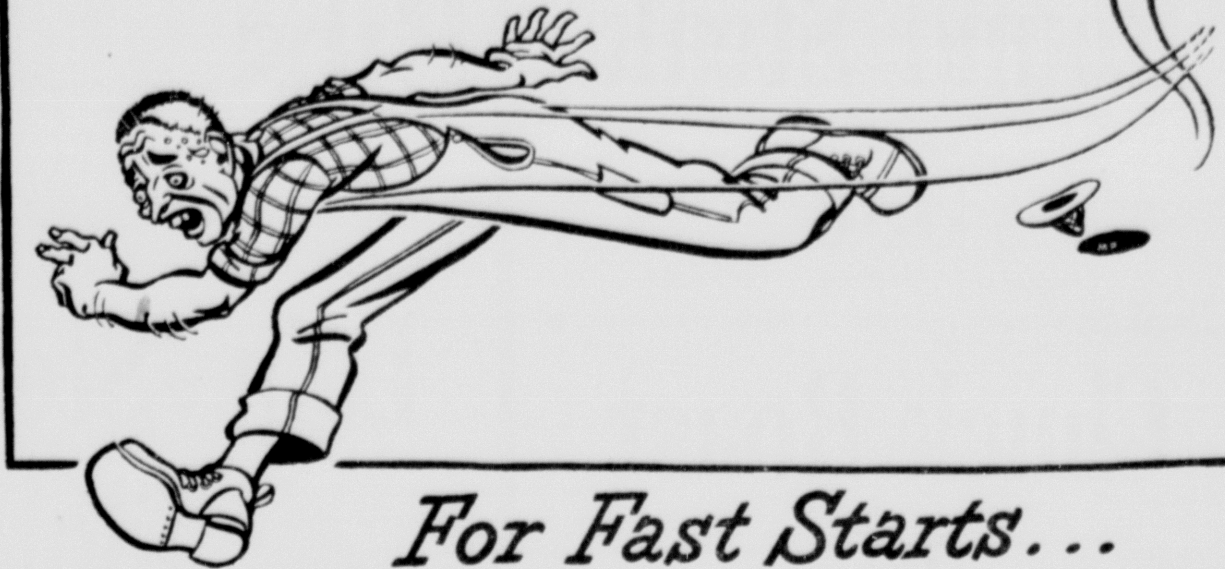

Mrs. Knighton closed the afternoon with an invitation to the veterans' wives to use the Legion Hall for their various social activities.

More telephone service

FOR MORE PEOPLE
THAN EVER...

We've put in more than 190,000 telephones in Texas in the first nine months of this year—nearly twice as many as we connected in the first nine months of 1940.

We're handling a million and a half more local calls a day than a year ago.

And 13 per cent more long distance calls. (Nearly twice as many as before the war.)

Putting in all those telephones and taking care of all those extra calls—regardless of shortages of materials—is one of the biggest jobs the telephone company has ever done.

Best part is that service has remained good on most calls despite heavier-than-ever volumes.

There are some delays but we're working on them—just as we're working hard to serve people waiting for telephones. Service will be better than ever, for everyone, as soon as new equipment can be made and installed.

Life Complicated After Individuals Reach 40 years

From a health standpoint, life after forty begins to be more complicated for the average individual, than it was in his earlier years. According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, the principal health foes confronting people in middle life are heart disease, cancer, kidney disease, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, apoplexy, diabetes and arthritis.

Middle aged people of today are healthier than were those of preceding generations, and the present generation, when they reach middle age, should enjoy even better health than their parents of today.

Medical care in middle life has two important phases. The first is going to the doctor at regular intervals for a complete physical checkup whether or not there have been symptoms that suggest the need for medical attention. The second is prompt attention to any illness which may mean the difference between prompt recovery and continued good health and prolonged invalidism. It is difficult to say which of these phases is the more important.

It has been found that men and women who faithfully pursue the habit of regular health examinations and who follow the advice arising from them tend to live longer, more satisfactorily, and freer from disease than does those who simply take a chance and go to the doctor only when pain or disability forces them to give up their normal activities.

It is also a fact that many diseases of middle age respond to treatment in early stages whereas if neglected until later stages they often cause permanent invalidism and even death.

Good advice for persons over forty is that they have regular physical examinations and obtain prompt medical attention for any and all illnesses.

The medical profession is the only one that works continually to destroy itself.

They say that J. Evetts Haley, noted Texas author, once visited a Fort Worth book store. His newest volume was on display. Picking up a copy, he asked the saleslady, "Is this book any good?" Not knowing she was speaking to the man who had written it, she answered, "You bet it is! The pictures were drawn by Harold Bugbee!"

Bugbee is, of course, the Clarendon artist.

None of us can resist the temptation to say, "I told you." Last summer, I warned that an effort would be made next January, when the legislature meets, to repeal the tax exemption on the gasoline the farmers burn in their tractors. Well, those in favor of removing the exemption didn't wait till January; the campaign has already started.

The farmer is the most heavily taxed man in Texas in proportion to income and property. His land can't escape taxation because it is out in the open where everybody can see it; he couldn't hide it, even if he wanted to. And he pays 4 cents a gallon on the gasoline he burns in his automobile—and mainly drives over community roads that are dusty half the year and nearly impassable with mud the rest of the time. And they are going to try to make him pay a tax on the gasoline he uses in his tractor.

A favorite story is the one about the Irishman who captured 17 enemy soldiers, single-handed. The general asked, "How did you do it?" He said, "I surrounded 'em."

SOME KINDNESS

"Did you know that that fellow who is running for office has a glass eye?"

"No; can you tell which one it is?"

"Yes. You look at both eyes pretty hard, and the one that has a gleam of human kindness in it is the glass one."

"Why is it that, being a Southerner, you always vote the Republican ticket?"

"Well, I never saw the word 'Democrat' in the Bible, but I've read about 'Republicans and sinners,' so I guess the sinners must be the Democrats."

Invade Dragon Valley To Find Ancient Lizards

WASHINGTON. — What ho, you reluctant dragon! The Smithsonian Institution is looking for a couple of the 120-million-year-old fossilized type.

Dr. C. L. Gazin, Smithsonian paleontologist who recently returned from military service, has left to re-explore Dragon canyon in Utah, where, just before the war, scientists found fossil bones of large long-clawed lizards.

Named "polyglyphanodonts," these lizards were chums of the last of the dinosaurs. The Smithsonian adds conservatively "they were probably quite gruesome in appearance."

The Smithsonian says that while the lizards were among the most ancient members of the lizard family in North America, the fossil bones already found are so well-preserved that it is possible "to get a fair appearance of the animals in life."

After digging around in Dragon valley, Dr. Gazin plans further explorations for fossil remains of other animals in the Bridger basin of Wyoming.

Nature Helps to Avert Civil War in Iran

TEHRAN, IRAN. — Civil war in Iran may have been delayed or averted by unfavorable flying weather which blocked the departure of the Azerbaijan "premier" from Tehran recently, central government officials said.

They credited the delay as paving the way for a resumption of negotiations.

The "premier," Jafar Pishevari, agreed to reopen negotiations on the return of the self-proclaimed independent province of Azerbaijan to the central government's jurisdiction, according to a central government translator.

The Iranian army has been on the alert for the last few days and reinforcements have moved to certain frontier stations.

PANHANDLE LIVESTOCK COMMISSION COMPANY

Located in Amarillo at N. Grand. Phone 29244.

Mr. Charley Ford, Manager. They hold a Big Auction Sale Every Thursday, Starting at 12:00 Noon.

There isn't a question but that this popular establishment is an important factor in the commercial life as it is one of the largest livestock firms in these parts. The management is very liberal in dealings with the public and attracts shipments for many miles around.

They are well known as one of the best livestock firms in this part of the country, men who know the cattle business and are regarded for their fair dealings. The farmers with whom it is a pleasure to transact business. They treat all customers alike, doing as they would be done by, and this all means that have come to know that they can get from them the highest price that the market will permit in livestock of all kinds, hence they seek no further market. They have a reputation far and wide as businessmen of experience and straight forward methods and it is not surprising that the volume of business is ever increasing.

This is truly a wonderful showing and one that evidences the fact that Panhandle Livestock Commission Company have merited the enviable reputation that they have attained. They are in every way thoroughly reliable and the assistants are men once a patron of this establishment you are always a patron.

The livestock industry is the leading industry of the farmer and this is chiefly due to the fact that the market for this class of stock is always available. It has not been so many years ago, and is within the memory of men now living when the livestock markets were very scattered and the farmers raised stock for their own consumption and only sold the surplus of their herds.

They are clean-cut, affable and courteous business men and accommodating to a marked degree. We are pleased in this edition to direct your attention to this establishment as a distinctive feature of the commercial and industrial efficiency of this country. ADV.

Doctors Remedy War Ills in Russia

Stunted Growth of Children Is Being Corrected.

MOSCOW.—The war stunted the growth of children in occupied regions and spread venereal disease and tuberculosis, but Soviet medical scientists have made considerable progress already in remedying the health situation.

Speaking before a medical meeting in Moscow, F. I. Zborovskaya, director of the pediatrics institute of the academy of science, said babies born now in Kharkov, for example, weigh as much at birth as they did in 1940.

The German occupation caused babies in 1942 to average about one-half pound less than in 1940.

Children two and three years old still show effects of the war diet. Girls of that age were found to average 3½ pounds underweight, and boys almost as much. Older children also have suffered but not usually as much.

Prof. M. P. Multanovsky of the tuberculosis institute said tuberculosis began gaining as soon as the war started, but by 1943 anti-tuberculosis measures were limiting spread of the disease. These included special nursery arrangements for victims in all states, with particular attention to war plant workers, who were provided night nurseries and enriched diets.

Syphilis and other venereal diseases increased rapidly in the Ukraine and White Russia under the German occupation. Prophylactic methods brought an improvement in the situation in 1945. Director E. M. Goldziber of the venereal and skin institute reported, and now the incidence of the diseases is rapidly nearing normal.

2 Billion War Stock In Europe Is Sold

PARIS. — Nearly two billion dollars worth of surplus United States war stocks in Europe have been sold or committed, the office of the foreign liquidation commissioner reports. Less than one-half of the original stockpile is left on the continent.

Of the $3,111,507,000 worth of American supplies declared surplus thus far, sales, contracts, and bulk transfers to both France and Great Britain have accounted for the disposal of 1 billion 860 millions worth, the announcement said.

Buyer interest has shifted to surplus stockpiles in Belgium, Germany and Italy, "where equipment, machinery and supplies of all types totaling more than 1 billion 500 millions at original cost are expected to be declared surplus to meet the demands of European governments and other buyers."

British Jail Germans In Protest Demonstration

HAMBURG.— British authorities held an unannounced number of German civilians under arrest following a mass demonstration staged by Hamburg residents.

They protested an order directing 30,000 persons to evacuate their homes to make room for the families of British military personnel.

The demonstration, in which approximately 4,000 persons participated, was the first large-scale manifestation of resentment against the Allied occupation.

The defiant crowd assembled in the city square chanting "First phosphorus bombs, now removal"—a reference to Allied air raids which destroyed a great part of the city — and booed Burgomeister Petersen when he appealed to the demonstrators to disperse.

The crowd milled about for almost two hours, during which it twice sang the old German national anthem "Deutschland Uber Alles." For the most part the demonstrators were orderly, although hats were knocked off the heads of a number of men who remained covered during the singing.

Tries Easy Way to Get Stamps; It's Hard Way

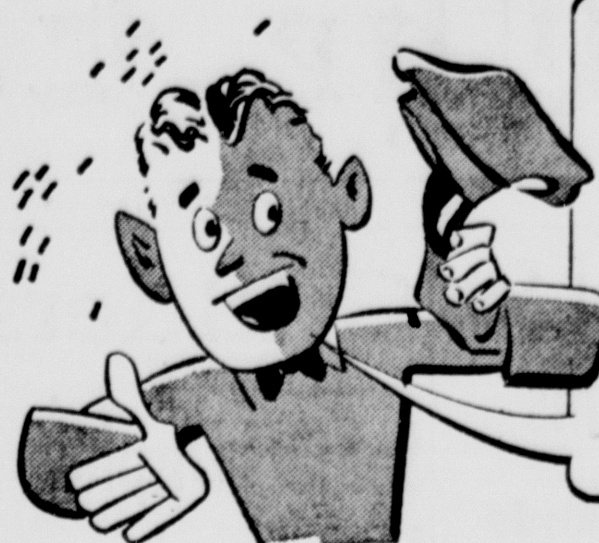

CHEYENNE, WYO.—Next time a Cheyenne business man gives his secretary money with which to buy stamps, he's going to be more explicit in his directions. He handed his secretary a $30 check and told her to buy some stamps.

She addressed an envelope to the local postmaster, put the check in it and sent the envelope on its way with nothing in it but the check. She explained later that she thought the postmaster "would know what to do with it and we'd get the stamps."

U. S. Will Let Germans Run Internment Camps

BERLIN. — American military government announced that it was turning over to German civil authorities the administration of internment camps in the United States occupation zone containing persons awaiting trial under denazification laws. The military government will retain custody over camps containing internees held as war criminal suspects.

FOR EXTRA SAFETY AND EXTRA MILEAGE THE NEW B.F. Goodrich Silvertown IS WORTH THE WAIT

The new Silvertown tires have been setting records for long mileage, safety and economy not only on taxi fleets, police cars and special test cars but in regular car owner use. These new tires are built with a broader, flatter tread that puts more rubber in contact with the road, spreading the wear over a larger area. To hold this heavier tread, B.F. Goodrich engineers developed a 35% stronger cord body with stronger cords and more of them... This meant better bruise resistance, greater safety. If you want the tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES, place your order today. A little wait will be rewarded with today's biggest money's worth in tires.

Greater Hallowe'en Carnival Sets Background for Various Booths

Queen Candidates Take Spotlight of Evening

Meow! Black cats, goblins, rattling chains, and ghosts will be in evidence Hallowe'en night as school town and community prepare to stage the greatest all-out affair ever slated for this section of the country.

Booths, containing suitable and fitting materials to provide a festive air, will be located in both school buildings for the convenience of the public.

Queen Takes Spotlight

Spotlighting the entire evening will be the election of the carnival queen, sponsored by the Press Club. This year Louise Blewett, senior; Valeta Haines, junior; Verna Davenport, sophomore; Ava Dooley, freshman; Barbara McDougall, eighth grade; and Shirley Erwin, seventh grade will represent their classes, respectively, as candidates for the people's choice.

Seniors will have a Bingo table, which activity proved to be the greatest money-making attraction of last season.

Penny-pitching, another popular kind of entertainment, is to be sponsored by the Junior Class, who quarter.

Sophomores Choose Canteen

A Hallowe'en canteen, probably to be held in the high school gym, is the Sophomore's money maker.

For the ones who like to shoot at targets, there will be a booth. Freshmen are to have a shooting gallery in which bottles will be the targets, and sling-shots will be the firearms.

"Darts for Dough" will be sponsored by the eighth graders, while, as is customary, Madame Pepita Intize will tell fortunes with cards for the seventh grade.

The FHA is to have a country store.

Grades Sponsor Booths

In the grade school, Mrs. A. K. Goodman's room will sponsor a White Elephant sale. Mrs. Dan K. Usery's third grade will exhibit a marionette show.

The fifth is to have the Fish Pond and the fourth grade, a Grab-box.

All the grades have not decided definitely upon booths to sponsor. The complete list will be given later.

Mr. Loyd Devin has charge of the carnival booths.

GIRLS, WE SALUTE YOU

FHA Week! Yes, girls it's your celebration. Do we need you? Well—yes!

If there ever was a time that our young women should be interested in Homemaking, it is now. Did you know there is one divorce in every three marriages? Who is to blame? Certainly, both parties! The fact about it, as instructors stress, is that homemaking means much more than just a clean house, pretty clothes, and a good time.

It means keeping that good disposition even though things are not always smooth—sailing.

Develop that pioneer spirit and keep it always!

By O. P. P

Having the greatest number of parents in attendance for the first meeting of Parent-Teachers Organization this season, in the high school, is the seventh grade, who won a one dollar prize.

Mrs. James Vernon was absent from school Monday and Tuesday because of illness.

Jr. High Attends Special Matinee

Junior High students attended a special matinee of "Black Beauty" last Tuesday at the Olympic Theater. This, being one of the two parties allowed the group each semester, was attended by the entire body with Mrs. Billie Simms and Mrs. Nora E. Gilmore, eighth and seventh grade sponsors, respectively.

Beginning at 1:30 o'clock, the students drove to the theater in school busses and afterwards they returned to the school building where refreshments were served by their room mothers and sponsors.

The show, taken from one of the books on the students' reading list, portrays old English customs. It also shows an example of extreme cruelty to animals, permitted by pride.

"The good attained from attending the show," states Mrs. Simms, "will be of great value to each student in many ways, as well as an outing."

The second party for the group will be given just before the Christmas holidays, and will possibly continue the custom of having a class tree, sponsors announce.

I just this minute noticed this here little poem in one of my fan letters or mabe I should say my one fan letter:

Roses are red

Oh Cactus Cal
We think you stink!
Thank you kiddies! Now ain't that sweet?

Wal ah reckon we'd best get on with the news of the week. This here little item about Sue Ann Colwell came first hand. She was atakin' in the ball game Friday night with that tall, dark and ornery Wilbert Long and then Saturday night Guy "Bull" Brant was escorting her at the local picture house.

Richards Walter and Barbara McDougall was ahavin' a mighty fine time Sunday night. I wuz a wonderin' where Janey Forester wuz—don't know why Richard reminds me of Janey—but anyway I don't have to wonder long until here come Janey with some critter. I inquired and his name is "Bugs" Benny Bonnington. (I declare what some folks won't name their young-uns.)

I run across one of the Aven sisters thuther day. She tells me she ain't seen "Bill" for months. Well, we all got our little trials and tribulations. When Martha reads this I'll have some tribulation of my own—along with a few bumps and bruises.

I'll just take this opportunity if I may—and I don't know why I shouldn't since this is my column (can't deny it)—to thank Miss Jessie DeGraffenried for the beautiful bouquet she presented to CHS for Friday's assembly.

Course some of you little delinquent young ones were congregated up in the detention hall at the time so you didn't get to see the flowers—but that's just one of those things.

Seniors Display New Jewelry

Rings Pins Necklaces Reach Class After Long Delay

"All that glitters is gold!" Yes, the old adage is denied.

Seniors will verify the above statement when they flash their new jewelry.

Thirty-eight rings ordered last Thanksgiving reached class, Monday, October 21, in time to be worn the rest of this school year.

There are three sizes: large, medium, and miniature. They have mirrored crests with raised oblong beacons in black inscribed with "C" for Canyon. High School is written in small letters on the base.

On the shank is inscribed the figures of the year, divided and placed on each side. A gradual narrowing of the shank joins the ring with raised beacons pointing horizontally toward the crest.

The large rings cost $11.95; medium, $10.95; and miniature, $9.95.

Nine pins, for the girls or boys, also ordered, resemble the crest of the rings but have 1947 inscribed on the guards. These cost $3.95 each.

Four necklaces costing $4.95 each were among the lot. Each has a pendant similar to the crests and shanks of the rings.

"The students are well pleased with the jewelry," states Mr. Devin, senior sponsor, "and we consider ourselves fortunate in receiving them."

I walked in. The remains of a chair was asettin' all around her. Weak chair I reckon.

Shovelin' Sam Tops All Cat's Names

Meet Shovelin' Sam! You don't know him? The very idea; He's our lil' ole caterpillar tractor, blushing as much as his khaki paint will let him, 'cause he's noticed.

Bob Jones, thought and thought, scratched his head, and out came an idea; when he wrote it down on paper the committee, Mrs. Wilma Hornstra, Miss Lurline Bowman, and Mrs. Nora E. Gilmore, just up and chose it for first place.

Some two hundred names were submitted by students from the seventh through the twelfth grades. Other names considered were: Canyon City Kitty, Green Eagle, Discharged Vet, and Pee Wee Milly.

Bob will receive two free tickets to the game between Canyon and Dalhart, Friday night, October 25.

Teachers Discuss Coming Carnival

Faculty members discussed the Hallowe'en Carnival in a meeting held on October 15 in the home-making department.

Arrangements will be made for more booths to be scattered over both the Canyon grade and high school building.

Mrs. Mitchell Jones reported the suggestions made by the carnival committee.

After the meeting the social committee served refreshments to the Canyon Public School Teachers.

Mrs. Jones' 5-J class has built two Indian pueblos on their display table during their study of Indians.

Fourth, fifth, and sixth grades have forty-four new library books in their department.

Four new students who enrolled in Canyon High School during the past week are, Larry Rousch, senior, Joan Hicks, freshman, and R. J. Seabrist, seventh grade, from Amarillo; and Geneva Devin, eighth grade, from Panhandle.

Juniors Designate Booth and Queen

The Juniors had a call class meeting Tuesday morning to take care of some unfinished business. They selected Valeta Haines as their carnival queen candidate. She will choose her escort later.

The booth which was selected was Penny Pitching. The class decided dues should be one dollar a semester.

Since the students are divided in two different teams in the magazine sale they were interested in which side was ahead, so the manager of each gave a report. The blue side has sold $472.00 worth of subscriptions, and the reds have brought in $290.00.

Superintendent E. A. Wooten is in Austin this week on business concerning the refinancing of school bonds. He will return to his office Wednesday.

FHA Club Observes State-Wide Week

Members of the FHA Club met Thursday night, October 17, at 7:30, to discuss their activities during State-wide FHA Week, October 20-27.

This afternoon the club members had a combined chapter meeting and reception, the program being the initiation of W. T. High FHA members and an installation service for their officers. Miss Carolyn Newsom is their sponsor. The parents of both Canyon High and W. T. members were the special guests.

The Canyon High FHA Club has 56 paid members and holds meetings every other Thursday night to discuss business, etc.

The members have been selling hot dogs and coffee at the Eagles' home games, and they wish to thank everyone for their patronage.

The club has planned all its socials for the year, including a Valentine banquet, a tea for the mothers, and a picnic, and another party.

Wright, Abbott, Bailey Run Long Touchdown Jaunts

Before a good crowd of Canyon boosters, the Eagles out-maneuvered, out-played and out-scored the Friona Chiefs 42-0. The game was played under the lights of the Friona field Friday night.

Charles Wright and Billy Abbott, co-captains, lost the toss to the Friona captain who chose to kick. Lee Bailey took the kick, returned down the left sideline and with good blocking, ran 60 yards for Canyon's first tally. Wright plunged for the extra point making the score 7-0 in the opening minutes of the game.

Abbott Kicks

After Abbott kicked to the Chief's 40, our line held for the required four downs and immediately upon Canyon's getting the ball, Wright dashed into the end zone. Abbott's conversion was good and as the first quarter ended the score stood 14-0.

Friona was again held on downs. This time Wright took off around left end and with superb blocking by his teammates, ran about two-thirds the length of the field for his second and the Eagles' third touchdown. Abbott again stuck his educated toe into the ball as it sailed through the uprights. The score: 21-0.

Chiefs Threaten

The Chiefs made their only real threat after Canyon had kicked. In a series of plays they went to the Eagles' 10-yard line. They were set back to the 15 but returned to the 10 as the half whistle blew.

The start of the second half found the Chief's kicking off to Canyon, who tried a running play which was not very successful and on the next play a long pass was intercepted on the 10 yard line by Abbott who ran 80 yards to score through the surprised Friona eleven. This run is the longest on the Eagles' 46 record. A pass to James Guthrie was good for the extra point making Canyon 28; Friona 0.

Holding an outclassed Friona team on downs, the Eagles went through the touchdown routine again with Abbott carrying and also kicking the extra point. This ran the score up to 35-0 also ending the quarter.

Pass in Final Period

Highlighting the final period was a 50-yard pass from Abbott to Richard Walters enabling Walters to carry the pigskin across for Canyon's final score. He also booted the extra point to end the scoring at 42-0.

During the last two minutes the Eagle second string played with Meade Michael carrying the ball for the squad.

Outstanding players on the line were Guthrie, Bible, Burrus, and Burtz who got a high percentage of the blocks and tackles.

This week the Eagles take on the Dalhart Wolves at the Buffalo Stadium at 8:00.

HEAP BIG MOTHER-IN-LAW
The belief that American Indian women do all the work—except for hunting and fishing—completely dominated by their braves, is debunked by Dr. Ralph L. Beals, associate professor of anthropology at the University of California.
On a basis of extensive American Southwest explorations, during which he studied domestic relations, he reports the following ancient Indian customs, still in practice:
"Among Hopi and Zuni tribes of Pueblo Indians, the women do little or no actual farming, but farms and houses are considered their property. The Indian man is considered a guest in his wife's mother's home. If there is trouble his personal belongings are put outside the door, as signal for his departure. After separation he relinquishes all property rights, to house, new crops, or whatever he has built or tilled. After a quarrel he goes home to his mother.
We couldn't understand why son was constantly falling out with his girl friend until he said that she was always willing to kiss and make up—and he liked that.
Taking the ceiling off hog feed and keeping it on the hog is something else that only an OPA expert can explain.
When word came that the total jobs in the country tops 60 million, a solemn stillness fell over the pool parlor.
Warning to veterans: No matter how good it seems, if you must put up money to get the job, the whole thing is a swindle.

RAINBOW BEAUTY SHOP

This beauty salon is done in nice soft colors with just a pleasant odor of creams, fine soaps and cleanliness. The low voices of competent operators who know how to do their work and who turn you out looking lovely are most soothing and refreshing. They are altogether conversant with hair and its way. They have a fund of information and knowledge as to what should be done with hair and what may reasonably be expected of it. If you have any difficulty dressing your hair, feel that it is not all it should be, or if you just want to know it will be taken care of properly. Finger waving is done at the hands of an artist. Their waves confer a gracious distinction to natural or permanently waved hair. You will feel and look like a new person after one of their remarkable facials. There is nothing that makes one take a new lease on life as does a properly done facial. Try one and you will be convinced. This beauty parlor has met with universal success since its opening. Their excellent and satisfactory service has built for them a very large and growing clientele. They are kept busy practically all the time and it is a good plan to make an appointment for the work you wish or you may be disappointed at the last minute.

We wish to commend this popular beauty shop upon the remarkable high standing it has in this community. ADV.

Find Adventure In Field Work

Geodetic Survey, in Spite Of Hardships, Appeals To Young Men.

WASHINGTON.—Those who think of the United States coast and geodetic survey as a highly professional and cloistered department of the federal government are only partly right. Its work is scientific, but its personnel often meets with adventure and sometimes is in danger.

Personnel engaged in basic geodetic control survey work in the interior areas of the country "may encounter poisonous snakes, wild animals and tame animals gone berserk," department of commerce relates.

"They may find themselves clinging to a mountain ridge when a gale or blizzard strikes, or in deep gorges may be compelled to portage their boats and paraphernalia around rapids too rugged for navigation. In a mountain defile the lead man accidentally may dislodge a boulder, causing a wild scramble among those behind him to avoid serious injury.

Appeals to Young Men.

"Despite hardships and dangers encountered on occasion, however, work in the open has a strong appeal to young men and the division of geodesy experiences no difficulty in maintaining field parties at full strength.

"Every summer a limited number of young engineering students are given employment and distributed among field parties. They receive regular salaries and per diem allowances while employed and are assigned to the less difficult tasks. Not a few of them ultimately join the survey as permanent members. Often the work of field parties is centered far from human habitation."

Geodetic control operations take into account the curvature of the earth. For this reason in flat terrain it is necessary to make triangulation surveys from a considerable elevation. To meet this need tall portable steel towers are in constant use by field parties. In addition to taking care of the curvature of the earth, these towers provide an observation platform extending above surrounding forest growth and other obstacles. On two occasions falls from these towers have been fatal.

Operations Varied.

Operations in geodetic control are varied. They include the determination of geographic positions—latitude and longitude—and the determination of elevations.

"In 1807, during the administration of President Thomas Jefferson, the bureau was organized as the United States coast survey," the report says. "Operations started in 1816. There were some interruptions to the work, but it has been carried on continuously since 1836.

"Having always handled coastal control surveys, the bureau in 1878 was given the task of continuing such surveys into the interior and became the United States coast and geodetic survey. As a result of this practical control-survey work, a series of charts and maps covering the United States in its entirety today may be put together like the many pieces of a picture puzzle."

Burmese Rice Output Is Expected To Be Short

SINGAPORE, STRAITS SETTLEMENTS.—Rice production in Burma and Java probably will be more than 600,000 tons short of internal needs this year, an RAF aerial survey discloses.

The survey showed that about 16,000,000 acres of irrigated rice lands in Burma, Java and French Indo-China remained uncultivated.

British officials here believed Burma would be obliged to draw upon her surplus accumulated during the war. The Burmese government hoped to be able to continue some exports from that surplus.

Sarawak, Rich Borneo Kingdom, Now British

LONDON.—Sarawak, rich Borneo kingdom of the white rajahs, has become a British Crown colony.

An order in council put into effect legislation approved by the British parliament and Sarawak's supreme council.

Sarawak, Borneo state with 500,000 inhabitants and 300,000 acres of rubber plantations, was ceded to Britain by its last white rajah, Sir Charles Vyner Brooke, 71, under an agreement by which his three daughters and some local officials receive the proceeds of a $4,000,000 trust fund established from Sarawak funds.

Now Is the Time

By JOHN BROBERG
McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
WNU Features.

VIRGINIA sat at her desk just outside the boss's office and filed her nails furiously to keep from biting them. In a few minutes that strange anonymous voice would call her on the telephone. The man had called every day for two months, ever since her first day on the job. He always wanted the exact time—to the second. That was all.

Who was he? Virginia didn't have the ghost of an idea, and her curiosity was rapidly becoming tinged with fear. She was as jumpy as a cat. It was the timing that was responsible. The call came at the same time each day, just at 4:55—five minutes before the five o'clock whistle.

Virginia had once read a mystery story about a man who was driven stark mad by water falling on his head drop by drop. Perhaps the unknown was trying to drive her crazy, even if it took a couple of years. At this rate, she thought bitterly, it wouldn't take that long. And suddenly she made up her mind to find out who was at the other end of the line, no matter what the consequences.

Mr. Harsh had warned her repeatedly not to ask questions, only to answer them. He was president of the plant and hated gossip. But, Virginia argued, what if the strange caller was a saboteur? The thought frightened her. She had been over all this before. Once she even dreamed it had happened. All the buildings, with their precious war output, their peacetime production plans, were flying in the air through pink glares of fire and lurid puffs of smoke. She, her desk and her typewriter were tumbling in the sky in a clutter of lunch buckets, workers and machines. And Mr. Harsh was there, too, sitting on his desk shaking his first angrily at her. It was all her fault. She had returned to earth with a jolt, awakened in a dither.

Suddenly she knew what to do. She would tell Mr. Harsh and let him worry about it. Then, if some day the plant was blown up at 4:55, she wouldn't be to blame.

She put her nail file in her desk drawer, shoved back her chair and marched resolutely up to the door marked PRESIDENT. For a moment she hesitated, then knocked loudly. A voice boomed, "Yes?" And she walked in.

Mr. Harsh glowered at her. "Yes, Miss Black?" he said impatiently.

Virginia bolstered her courage with a deep breath. The story came out in a rush. At first Mr. Harsh seemed bored, then he sat up straight. "Well," he said, chewing his cigar, "that's very interesting. Same time each day, huh? Tell you what. When he rings up today, if he does, let me speak to him. Transfer the call to me."

Virginia was greatly relieved. She felt very patriotic when she sat down at her desk and looked at the clock. It was 4:50—five minutes to go. The hands had never moved so slowly. She had work to do, but she just couldn't put her mind on it. She watched the clock—and waited.

The hands crept on slowly, inexorably. And just as the minute hand touched 4:55 the bell rang shrilly. Never before had it sounded so loud. Virginia's hand trembled as she lifted the receiver.

"Mr. Harsh's office," she said, her voice sounding to her ears like the screech of a terrified bird. At the other end the deep masculine voice with an alien accent asked the same question it had asked for two months. "Say—what time is it by your clock?"

Quickly, without answering, she pressed a button—kept the receiver at her ear.

She heard the click in Mr. Harsh's office, and then his voice. "Hello," he said calmly.

The man repeated, "Say—what time is it by your clock?" "Who the devil is this?" Mr. Harsh roared.

"This is the power plant. I call every day at this time to check with your clock so that I can blow the whistle at the right time. My watch ain't too accurate."

Mr. Harsh groaned. Virginia went limp. Then her boss began to laugh. She could hear him through the partition as she put the hand set back on its cradle. Then the door marked PRESIDENT opened and Mr. Harsh appeared, his face red as the sun. "Virginia," he inquired politely, trying hard to keep his face straight, "is our clock right today?"

Virginia went crimson to the roots of her hair. She had never felt quite so foolish in all her life. "I think so, Mr. Harsh," she stammered. "You see I've always checked it by the five o'clock whistle."

Japs Control Disease

Until the turn of the century, armies invariably lost four times as many men from disease as from weapons. These figures appalled the Japanese government, which sent thousands of young Japanese all over the world to study sanitation. The report of the Japanese army at the end of the Russo-Japanese war showed the wisdom of this policy. Seven per cent had died in battle, 1.5 per cent from disease.

The P-39 war plane is popularly called the Airacobra.

Lumber Shortage For U. S. Feared

Vigorous Action Is Urged By Forestry Experts.

ROSCOMMON, MICH.—America faces an acute lumber shortage unless immediate steps are taken to increase forest productivity, American Forestry association warns.

The warning was given in the forest resource appraisal report, an inventory of the nation's forest resources.

The report was submitted to a committee of 20 leading conservationists gathered at Higgins Lake near here to draft a program of restoration and development for the country's tree-growing lands.

Forest resources are capable of meeting immediate postwar reconstruction needs but will be unable to sustain high production in the future, the report said.

John E. Woods, director of the survey, said a vigorous program to stimulate new timber growth would correct the situation.

"The future can be made secure through full use of America's vast land area and tremendous tree-growth potential," he declared.

According to association officials, changes in woods practices and policies are needed to overcome the danger of a lumber shortage.

They said privately owned forest lands produce 90 per cent of the nation's lumber products, although these lands contain only 55 per cent of the timber. The other 45 per cent, under control of the federal government, provides only 10 per cent of the production, it was asserted.

Forests now in public ownership were pointed out as being capable of making vast increases in lumber production. However, in many areas "trees are permitted to reach maturity and die unharvested," the officials said.

Population of U. S. Leaps Up 6 Per Cent

WASHINGTON.—Population of the United States was 140,386,500 on January 1, 1946, an increase of 6.6 per cent since the 1940 census, the census bureau estimates.

It reported that the nation's birthrate has declined somewhat since 1943, but has not yet dropped to its prewar level.

Bureau figures showed the "natural increase" in population—the excess of births over deaths—reached a peak of 930,000 in the last half of 1942, but declined to about 720,000 in the last half of 1945.

Modern autos carry a minimum of five control gauges on the instrument panel. There is a gauge for fuel, oil pressure, heat, electricity and speed.

U. S. To Purchase Natural RubberPays 23½ Cents Per Pound For 145,000 Tons.

WASHINGTON. — The United States has agreed to buy 145,000 long tons of natural rubber from Britain, France and Holland for 23½ cents per pound in the last half of this year, according to a state department announcement.

The price, which is basic, is 3¼ cents above the rate being paid up to July 1. This means either that domestic prices of raw rubber will have to be increased or the government will have to pay a subsidy to maintain the purchase program.

A joint announcement here and in London said that Britain, while reopening the Malayan raw market to the United States, would stabilize conditions there by paying a price equivalent to 23½ cents a pound for all available rubber.

Britain and the United States are the great purchasers of rubber.

The base price was described as being for "number IX ribbed smoked sheet." Other grades will be paid for at agreed differentials.

This raw rubber, purchased by the U. S. Rubber Development corporation, will be made available to American manufacturers through government outlet agencies.

The official statement said that "determining factors in the agreement reached were the continuing shortage of natural rubber in relation to demand and the present exceptionally high cost of producing natural rubber in these areas."

The United States obtains the great bulk of its raw rubber from British, Dutch and French Far Eastern production but some is coming from such scattered places as South America, Siam, the Philippines and Africa.

Optometrists PledgeTheir Eyes to 'Bank'

PITTSBURGH. — Three hundred optometrists agreed at convention sessions here to bequeath their eyes to "eye banks" so that their careers of vision improvement would continue after death.

Members of Beta Sigma Kappa, honorary optometric fraternity, meeting here in connection with convention sessions of the American Optometric association, pledged their eyes to the aid of diseased persons and accident victims at the suggestion of their president, Dr. H. E. Pine of Chicago.

"These men spend their lives improving vision," Dr. Pine asserted, "what better means to improve people's sight exists than this method?"

Dr. Pine said recent development of new refrigerating methods made large-scale participation in a system of "eye banks" practical and efficient.

Man Once Was Larger Than Giant Gorillas

CHICAGO.—Evidence that some of modern man's earliest ancestors may have been giants ranging up to twice the size of a male gorilla was disclosed by Dr. Franz Weidenreich, research associate of the American Museum of Natural History.

In a book called "Apes, Giants and Man," Dr. Weidenreich told of recent discoveries of a fossilized giant human jawbone in Java and a huge human tooth found in China.

"It may not be too far from the truth if we suggest the Java giant was much bigger than any living gorilla and that the Chinese giant was correspondingly bigger than the Java giant—that is 1½ times as large as the Java giant and twice as large as a male gorilla," he said.

He added there were only "mere indications" thus far that the giants were older than all other known human types and expressed hope that the search for fossils could be continued in Java and China now that the war in the Pacific has ended.

100,000 Deaths Blamed On Systematic Starvation

BERLIN.—The Red army newspaper Tagliche Rundschau blamed overwork, systematic starvation and epidemics for the deaths of more than 100,000 men whose mass graves, the newspaper said, have just been discovered.

The graves were found at a former German prison camp near Zeithain, Saxony, in the Russian occupation zone. The prisoners were mostly Russian.

"In the so-called camp hospital, 50,000 prisoners had lain ill and unattended and with their only exit the mass grave," the newspaper reported.

Farmer Looks Up at Plane, Sees Grandma in Cockpit

PITTSBURGH.—A small silver monoplane swooped over hay stacks and banked into a turn above a farm at nearby Glenshaw. A young man in the barnyard looked up and exclaimed:

"Good gosh! It's grandma." There was no mistaking the happy face and gray hair of Mrs. Anna Hartman, 80, in the open cockpit of the plane. She was taking her first plane ride.

The Liberator war plane is technically known as the B-24.

Enough Food is no Accident

It is no accident that the largest crops in our history are being harvested this year when we, and the rest of the world, need them most.

In spite of war, loss of labor and little new equipment, the American farmer has again taken care of us and provided a life-saving surplus for abroad.

How do our farmers do it? How is it that only sixteen per cent of our people can feed all of us and go on breaking records in the face of circumstances which slow up industry?

There are three reasons: First, farmers work harder and longer than most other Americans. Second, they know how to make the best use of tools. And, third, they have a long-standing partnership with industry seeking to satisfy their urge to get more out of the land for the same labor. Farmers are still practicing the kind of enterprise that built America.

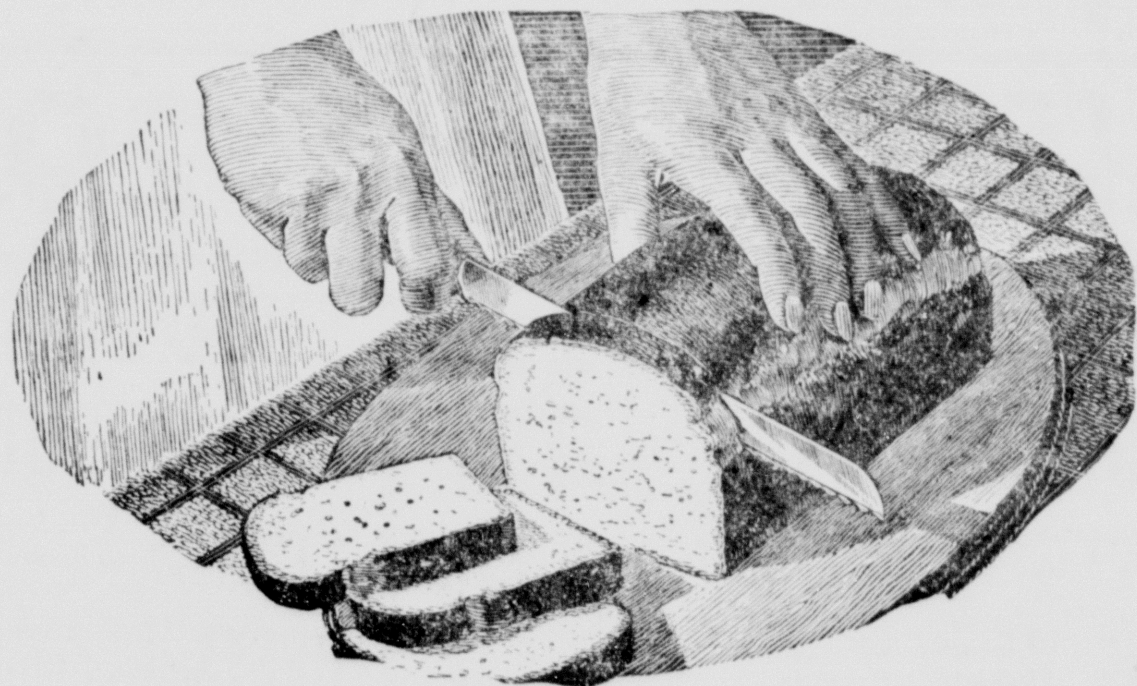

National thanks are due the farmer for the job he has done in the last five years. Universal respect is due him for his foresight in helping industry equip farms to meet a whole series of emergencies.

BUT... we should not crowd our luck, or the farmer's luck either. Too many farm tools are now worn out. Without new ones production may go down. Farmers need over eight hundred million dollars' worth of new implements and equipment. It is up to industry and labor to keep wheels turning to produce them, but any recurrence of strikes would prevent this.

America should see that the hard-working farmer gets what he needs.
